IV. DISCUSSIONS

The team met several times over the course of the last week in order to continue working on their subsystems. The team discussed the best course of action for meeting checkpoint 2, which included several different solutions.

V. DECISIONS

The team decided that the members would work on their own individual subsystems while occasionally chiming in on the other's work in case it was needed. The team also decided to start working on the github customization and the final presentation.
